

Golfer's Classic Rules

Golfer's Classic is a competitive golf competition held at 6 different courses selected prior to competition. Players compete by attempting to achieve their best score possible between each course to ultimately achieve the lowest total score from all courses. This competition lasts over a span of 12 weeks giving players flexibility to play on their schedule.

DISCLAIMER: This competition is a gentlemen's sport-like competition. When competing, keep the integrity of your scores truthful as to keep the competition fair for everyone.

How to Play

To participate, play a round at one of the selected competition courses.

Each player can practice any course as many times as desired. When ready to play a course for the competition, the player must commit to the intention of using their final score of that round no matter if it is better or worse than desired.

Once a player finishes a course and is ready to report their score, they send their score to the commissioner with photo evidence. For the integrity of the game, photo evidence MUST be presented for a score to count.

In the case that a player scores worse on a course than they preferred, each player has 2 mulligan rounds. Should a player use a mulligan, they are able to replay a course. All rules still apply as normal.

Competition Leaderboard

The scores for all players will be present on the competition leaderboard in over/under par format.

For another layer of integrity and suspense, a new course score will be revealed for all players at the beginning of each even week (for example Sunday of Week 2 the score of Course 1 shall be revealed to all players). The current week of competition and next score reveal date will always be present for reference.

Scorecards

All selected golf courses supply their own scorecard. Feel free to use it to keep score.

If preferred, the app 18Birdies is great for scorekeeping, having an exact distance from ball to hole, and gives a top-down preview of each hole.

Rules

Raincheck Rule

If at a point during a round unforeseen circumstances, such as bad weather, occur that make the round unfinishable, the player would log their score to that point in the round and come back to finish it when able.

For example a case where a player is attempting Hole 6 lightning is heard, they would log their score through the first five holes and finish the round starting at Hole 6 next time.

Teebox Rule

The teebox color players are suggested to play from are defined below in the "Courses" section.

If a player, accidentally or intentionally, plays from a harder teebox, their score is unchanged.

If a player, accidentally or intentionally, plays from an easier teebox, they will receive a +10 stroke penalty.

Allowed Clubs Rule

There is no limit to the amount of discs a player uses nor the types of discs used.

Groups or Solos Rule

Players can play solo or with groups.

Leaderboard Tiebreaker Rule

In the event of players having a tie on the leaderboard, they will remain tied until the end of the competition.

When the competition is completed, ties will be broken in the following ways numerically:

- 1) The player with more courses played (not counting mulligans) will receive priority.
- 2) The player with the lower minimum score in their collective round score range will receive priority.
- 3) The player with the lower maximum score in their collective round score range will receive priority.
